- We suggest using the foam padding from the back seat on the inside of drivers door to help from getting banged up from sliding into the driver's door with your elbows, ribs, etc.

DEMOLITION DERBY RULES:

1. Cars and station wagons with 3, or 4 cylinder engines only. Cars must be 107 inch or less in wheel base. Most cars this type are Mazda, Pinto, Toyota, Volkswagen's. No AMERICAN PACER or VOLVO cars (they are basically just like trucks) NO pickups trucks allowed.

Standard type compact or smaller cars only.

2. Suspension must remain at standard height. No spacers, stops, blocks, or reversed spring shackles used to raise or lower car. Torsion bars may not be adjusted to raise or lower car, Shocks may not be welded, and no more that 4 band spring (original size) allowed. Rear spring and rear end may not be tied to frame. Rear or differential must be of stock type, welded or posi-track optional. No wire or chains from rear ends springs to body or frame. Stock type springs only - No truck springs.
3. Fender trimming allowed - may be cut to outer diameters of tires. Bumpers end may be cut and bumper shocks may be welded solid. Bumpers can be welded to bumper shocks.
4. Truck lids must have two holes cut in size of football or bigger for inspection of trunk area. If back seat removed and we can clearly see into truck though rear fire wall to inspect your car - no inspection holes are needed.
5. Trunks must be empty / no added ballast. No trunk pins can be connected to the frame or thru the trunk floor. If bolting the lid shut no more than six 1" bolts can be used. No wire, straps or chains from truck lid to trunk floor, a maximum of two steel straps used to weld trunk shut, may not exceed 2 inch wide x ¼ inch thick x 6 inch long. This also applies to station wagon tailgates.
6. All cars must have a hood and they must be securely fastened down, they also must have holes size of footballs or bigger for inspection and fire extinguisher access, Also you may be asked to removed hood for inspection. No hood pins may be connected to the frame and they are limited to six -1inch bolts. Hoods may not be extended to front bumper.
7. If wiring or chaining hoods or trunks, use no larger than #9 wire or equivalent size chains this means 3/8 inch chain not a log chain. You may have a total of 2 chains or 3 strands of wire on the trunk and same for hood, not a combination of chain/ bolts/hood pins/ pick one.
8. If using wire in windows use no larger than #9 wires and no more than 3 strands in each opening. No wire in front left door windows opening. Driver's door window opening must not have anything in it, in case driver needs to exit thru window opening.
9. Radiator must remain in original position. Radiator support must remain in original position and not be welded and beefed up. NO auxiliary water coolers. No reserve water tanks added.
10. Battery must be moved to inner area, but must be fasten securely and covered with foam, inner tube, or plastic. No more than two regular automotive batteries or one industrial type battery.

- 11. Original gas tank must be removed unless it is in front of the rear axle. It is recommended that a supplement tank maximum 6 gallon capacity like a boat tank or well made fuel cell replace the stock gas tank. All fuel tanks must be fastened securely. No gas can or beer kegs can be used for fuel cell. Cars must use gasoline, no propane, diesel powered cars.
- 12. Engine must be in original location. A chain is allowed from motor to frame to help hold motor in line.
- 13. Tires must be DOT approved passenger car or LT tires up to 6 ply. No off road, studded tires or lugs. Any tires with marking ground off are illegal. Also no tires inside of tires. Nothing inside tires but air. Mud and Snow tires are allowed but no studded tires.
- 14. Exhaust can be altered. Mufflers are not mandatory. Exhaust must not be routed thru the driver's compartment. Keep fuel lines away from exhaust.
- 15. Transmission should be stock type. If using automatic, cooler lines maybe re-routed from radiator, and an auxiliary transmission cooler is allowed.

Remember these rules:

Driver's door seams can be welded solid. Driver's door must have some kind of support. Some examples are a piece of pipe welded to the outside of the door, grader blades welded to driver's door. Make that drivers door safe as you can.
Welding of other body seams with a skip weld (weld 5 inch skip 5 inch) is ok. Welding the outside (not inside) of your body is ok, this include trunk lidBUT NOT THE HOOD THIS HAS TO REMOVABLE FOR INSPECTION. Any addition welding or beefing up the car unless stated here you will be disqualified. You must wire or chain bumpers to help them stay on.

Note: Three to four bars mounted from top of car to dash area in front of the driver's side at the windshield area is recommended. This is to help stop big items to come flying into driver area. BUT do not put anything clear across the windshield as the driver may need to get out in a hurry due to fire. One brace between door posts is allowed, it can be X brace behind seat. You may also have a bar across dash. Don't use anything bigger that 3 inch material and 3/8" wall.

If you do not see it in these rules it is probably illegal or not allowable.
